DROWNED IN THE DEEP SEA

MATE AND SEAMAN OF THE BARKENTINE KLIKITAT.

Overboard in a Gale—Bravery of a Woman Passenger—A Captain's Tribute to a Brave and Good Officer.

First Mate Anderson and Able Seaman Larsen of the barkentine KLIKITAT were knocked from the deck of the vessel during a severe gale off of Cape Mendocino, on the 5th inst., and were drowned. The KLIKITAT arrived in port late yesterday afternoon, 30 days from Port Townsend, after an unusually hard trip. Captain Cutler is almost heartbroken over the loss of Anderson, whom he held in high esteem, and is well nigh worn out from long watches. From his log a brilliant account of the voyage and the fatal accident of the 5th inst. is secured.

Very heavy gales were experienced on the 5th and 6th, during which the ship labored heavily. The lumber cargo was wet and the vessel very deep.

About 6:30 a. m. of the 5th, when the gale was just coming, Andrew Anderson, first mate, and Antone Larsen, seaman, were shifting the spunkier sheet from the lee side to windward, when a puff of wind dragged the sheet out of the hands of the men and both went overboard. Captain Cutler was below, after being on deck most of the night. The sea was rough and the ship rolling heavily. The rain was falling in torrents and the fog thick.

Captain Cutler heard the boom jerk, and fearing an accident, sprang upon deck in time to hear the cry of "Man Overboard." He could see men struggling in the water half a ship's length astern and heard Anderson call for help. At the time the ship was going about seven or eight knots. The vessel was put about and stood back.

That took some time and the men in the water were lost sight of. It was too rough to launch a boat. After cruising about the vicinity for two hours the search was abandoned. Both men were dressed in oil clothes and heavy rubber boots, so that they had small chance for life, even though they were both excellent swimmers.

The accident occurred about 500 miles due west of Cape Mendocino.

Anderson had been with Captain Cutler on the KLIKITAT as sailor and mate for seven years, and was very well known here. Without any exception, Captain Cutler says, he was the best officer he ever had in the ship, not only a steady fellow, but always ready and willing, getting on with the men and taking a great interest in his work. He made friends everywhere.

He was a native of Sandegard, Norway, and 30 years of age. He leaves a wife and three children in Norway and an aged mother.

Antone Larsen was a native of the same town as the dead mate, about 31 years of age, and had been in the KLIKITAT about two years. He was a close friend of the mate. He leaves an aged mother and brother in Norway.

Although the crew was greatly reduced by the loss of two men, and an immense amount of extra labor put upon those remaining, there was never a murmur in the fore-castle.

Captain Cutler has much to say in praise of Mrs. Granzel, a lady passenger, who pluckily stood by and offered to work either in the galley or at the pumps to help out the short handed crew.

This is Captain Cutler's fiftieth trip to this port in the KLIKITAT. He has been in the vessel since she was first launched, seventeen years ago, and never lost a sail or spar.

The People Believe

What They Read About Hood's Sarsaparilla

Their Faith in This Medicine is Grounded on Merit

They Know It Absolutely Cures
When Other Medicines Fail

Hood's Sarsaparilla is not merely a simple preparation of Sarsaparilla, Dock, Sellingia and a little Iodide of Potassium.
Besides these excellent alternatives, it also contains those great anti-bilious and liver remedies, Mandrake and Dandelion.
It also contains those great kidney remedies, Uva Ursi, Juniper Berries, and Pipsissewa.

Nor are these all. Other very valuable curative agents are harmoniously combined in Hood's Sarsaparilla, and it is carefully prepared under the personal supervision of a regularly educated pharmacist.

Knowing these facts, is the abiding faith the people have in Hood's Sarsaparilla a matter of surprise? You can see why Hood's Sarsaparilla cures, when other medicines totally, absolutely fail.

"My little girl was afflicted with eczema and suffered for seven years. She was attended by physicians and tried many different kinds of medicine without relief. After taking a few bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla she was cured." Mrs.
EMMA FRANKLIN, Honeoye, New York.
